

Society of Women
Environmental Professionals

North Carolina, Triangle Chapter

December Social: Dining with a Documentary

Please join the Society of Women Environmental Professionals - NC Triangle Chapter for our holiday social!

We will be gathering at the theater at the Lofts at Lakeview to view and discuss Flow, an 84-minute documentary “investigation into what experts label the most important political and environmental issue of the 21st Century – The World Water Crisis”.

Pizza and salad will be purchased for dinner – the cost of the event will be $7 paid for upon arrival. In addition, we will collect donations for the Eno River Association. Contributions are voluntary and will help to continue preserving the water quality of the Eno River through land protection and other programs.

DATE: Tuesday, December 7th

TIME: 6:00 pm – 8:30 pm

6:00 pm – 6:30 pm Networking

6:30 pm – 8:00 pm Documentary

8:00 pm – 8:30 pm Discussion/Networking

LOCATION: The Lofts at Lakeview
2616 Erwin Road, Durham

TO ATTEND: Please RSVP to swepnctriangle@gmail.com by Monday, December 6th if you plan on attending so that we can order an adequate amount of food, and please let us know about any dietary restrictions. Directions will be emailed to those that RSVP.

COST: $7.00 cash upon arrival to the event to cover food and drink.

About the Eno River Association: The Eno River Association is a 501c3 non-profit conservation organization whose mission is to conserve and protect the natural, cultural and historic resources of the Eno River basin. Since 1966, the Association has worked actively to protect the lands and waters along the Eno River and its tributaries.

For questions regarding this event, or to RSVP, send an email to swepnctriangle@gmail.com